WEANING PIGS.

Directions for Promoting and Maintaining a Steady Growth.

Weaning time is always an important one, and care should be taken to see that such attention is given as will promote and maintain a steady growth. The best plan to adopt is to commence feeding several days before weaning, giving bran mixed with milk, which should be allowed to stand. Provide a trough in a place where the pigs can run in with themselves, and eat without being disturbed, then they will soon learn to eat and get accustomed to the changed diet.

Things at which they should be weaned depend greatly upon their condition. If they have been well fed, and have done well, they can, as a rule, be weaned when they are eight weeks old. With others that have not done so well another two weeks' nursing should be allowed.

A good orchard is the very best place for growing pigs. If there is a good supply of grass, a small quantity of bran and milk will keep them in good order.
It is not wise to make too sudden a change from the mother's milk to grass.

There is danger of the pigs getting stunted at this time, and it is almost impossible to correct the mischief. As with disease, every precaution should be taken to avoid such.

When there is any considerable difference in the size and quality of the pigs, which often arises when sows have large farrows, a good idea is to wean the best pigs first and allow the smaller and weaker ones to suck a few days longer.

At this season the faster the growth with the pigs the larger will be the profit, and the period from now onward, until real hot weather sets in, is the very best time to secure a healthy growth.
The extremes of hot and cold weather are both against obtaining growth, whilst the moderately cool weather in the early spring or autumn, under proper conditions, is much more favorable for rapid growth. With young pigs, if they have plenty of good green clover, there is little danger of over feeding; but it is never a good plan to give stock of any kind more than they can clear up comfortably, so with pigs, it is better to find out just what they want and give them so much.

THE LAST COUNCIL MEETING.

The Tribune is in error in its report of part of the proceedings of the last council meeting. The Tribune says that the mayor asked Councillor Orr, chairman of public works, to move a resolution. Though the Tribune does not say so exactly, yet it gives the idea that the mayor asked him to move a resolution in favor of introducing by-law No. 107, but that he sat "dumb as an oyster." Now the error is too apparent to those acquainted with council proceedings. The mayor knows his place too well to ask any councillor to move a resolution either for or against any matter until the councillor has expressed himself on the subject, then it would be the mayor's duty to direct the councillor to put his views in the form of a resolution. His Honor did ask in the usual and proper manner for resolutions, but he did not ask the chairman of public works for a resolution. When Councillor Murdoch stated that at the last regular meeting he had moved that the matter be referred to public works, the mayor asked the chairman of public works if he had any report, to which Councillor Orr replied in as much as Councillor Murdoch's resolution had been defeated and a resolution passed in amendment, that the clerk be instructed to prepare by-law 107, therefore he had no report. There were just four councillors present at the meeting, three of them had expressed themselves against the by-law being then introduced, so the chairman of public works knew he could not get a seconder and if he made a motion the mayor could not put it to the council. The mayor then adopted the only course possible to test the question by asking Councillor King to take chair.

The Mayor then took the seat of a councillor and moved, seconded by Councillor Orr that by-law 107 be now introduced. This of course would not carry the by-law, but if that motion had been carried, the by-law would have been before the Council for discussion. If the "Tribune" will take the trouble to remember what took place at the previous meeting, they will know that Councillor King said he would introduce Councillor Orr as chairman of public works, not making reports without consulting him as a colleague. It was well known that Councillor Grant, the other member of the public works, was going away for a length of time, and that consequently with Mr. King objecting, no report could be brought in. In fact that that the matter would have to lie in abeyance till the 3rd of September and nothing be done then unless councillor Grant returned in the mean time.

While arrangements are being made to subsidize lines of steamships between Canada and Australia, while a proposed cable is being favorably considered; and a conference is about to be held at Melbourne to discuss closer commercial relations between Canada and those distant parts of the Empire; while Mr. Geo. D. Parkin is lecturing on closer union in the various colonies in the Pacific, Major-General Bland Strange, a fifteen-year resident of Canada, has undertaken a patriotic lecturing tour through New Zealand and Tasmania.

His object appears to be the education of the people as to the greatness of the Empire and especially Canada, the resources, prosperity, prospects and trade of the Dominion, with the possible expansion of that trade so as to develop a large interchange of products between Australia and Canada. He shows Tasmania how she may send large quantities of fruit via Vancouver, and New Zealand the amount of wool she requires, and may just as well take from her.

On the other hand the Dominion could supply reapers, binders and other agricultural implements, while room exists for a considerable development of the lumber trade. He depicts in eloquent terms the British empire round the world, and the advantages of preserving intact the present union, as well in the Pacific as on the Atlantic, as well in Australia as in Canada, and deals in soothing terms with the many acts of aggression perpetrated by the United States upon the Dominion, and the general treatment accorded by them to British or Canadian interests.

Practical side of the question, however, seems to have been the most discussed, and an able address was delivered to the Fruit Growers' Association of New Zealand, at Geraldine, and another in Hobart, Tasmania, at which the Governor presided. Upon the whole, whatever may be our views regarding the future of the countries involved in the discussion, such a series of earnest speeches as have been recently given by Principal Grant, Mr. Parkin and General Strange must do much good in spreading information; increasing friendliness; discouraging separatists and developing trade; which Canadians cannot but realize such their country is honored in having such eloquent spokesmen and welcome guests in the Antipodean realms of our Queen.—Empire.

The Public Meeting.

The indignation meeting called at the instance of Dr. Lafferty, was held in the Fire Hall last night, and the first experience of a public meeting since the council vacated the chamber in order that the brigade might have quiet and rest, was rather a rough one. In the absence of Mayor Marsh, ex-Mayor King was called to the chair and Mr. Mitchell acted as secretary. The hall was filled so that many persons had to stand. Mr. King read the notice calling the meeting, and then called on Mr. Reilly to speak, as the meeting had been convened to hear an explanation from him and Mr. Lucas as to the action they had taken in arranging a settlement of the law suit pending between the School Board and the C. P. R. Townsite Trustees.

Mr. Reilly replied that it was not his place to speak now, as Dr. Lafferty had made a serious charge against the speaker and Mr. Lucas, it was the Doctor's place to state what they had done that was wrong.

Mr. Bruce Smith said that Lucas and Reilly had been called on to explain their action. He thought it was their duty to do so.

Mr. Reilly still objected to speak and asked Dr. Lafferty to read the double-barrelled document by which they were called together, again.

Dr. Lafferty here read the requisition and said he presumed that Reilly and Lucas had been elected by the people and entrusted with the care of the people's money and their interests and it certainly was for them to explain why they had acted in the extraordinary manner which they had done. The object of the meeting was to hear them justify themselves if they could, and Mr. Reilly would acquit himself much better if he would explain now, what in his high mightiness he had boasted on the streets. Mr. Reilly here said that Dr. Lafferty asserted that a much better bargain might have been made and it was his place to show how. Dr. Lafferty retorted that it was for this meeting to decide whether they thought a better bargain could not have been made.

Mr. Reilly replied, stating that we have not passed the resolution, the bargain is not closed, and said that at the meeting of the Board held after Mr. Scarth was here, and the Doctor had professed so much dissatisfaction, he Mr. Reilly, had proposed that the ratepayers should hear the case and decide whether the bargain should be closed, or whether we would allow Angus et al to go on with the appeal suit against the trustees.

Mr. Lucas said that he was willing to explain what they had done and why they had done so. He went on to state that the Board held a judgment against Angus et al for about $900; but though we held that judgment, it had been stated by two of the most learned judges in the Territories that the assessment of 1886, for which that judgment was held, was an illegal one and could not be sustained by the law of the land as it was at that time, and he believed there was danger of Angus et al winning their appeal at Ottawa, and then we would lose not only the judgment but also the costs, both assessable and not assessable, and that instead of getting $900 we would get a lot of law expenses to pay, and further, if we did not win the case, all our judgment amounted to was $912 or thereabouts, and judging from the enormous fees charged already by lawyers, if we won the case, he believed the non-assessable cost we would have to pay would be fully equal to the difference between the $900, which we would get a cheque for any day and the $900 and odd which we might get some day. He stated that the Board had run behind already $500 and had not a dollar to carry on the school, and he might have stated that Dr. Lafferty had made a premeditated and illegal demand upon the Town Council on Tuesday night for $1,000 of the ratepayers' money to carry on school matters, instead of accepting the $900 and the settlement of the case outside of the courts and what he believed is better for the ratepayers on the whole, than to win their case at Ottawa some time in the long future. Mr. Lucas said that what the Doctor declared he had stated about not caring for the ratepayers was false; Mr. Lucas further stated that he had that day asked Mr. West what they would take to carry on the defence at Ottawa, provided that we lost the case, and that Mr. West said about $300. Mr. West here said that he had put it at about $200 as the probable cost of carrying on the suit at Ottawa.

Dr. Lafferty next took the floor. He said I do not suppose this meeting would have been called tonight, if I had been accorded any opportunity of being present at the meeting with Messrs. Scarth and Tupper, as I would never have agreed to such a complete surrender of our position. But I did not know of the meeting until 12 o'clock at night when I met Mr. Scarth at the hotel. I had no notice of the meeting with Mr. Scarth. I was treated in a most discourteous manner by the other trustees. Mr. Scarth was the first to tell me of the settlement. I told him there must be some mistake about it as I am secretary of the board, and I had never heard of it. I turned to Mr. Reilly and asked him if it was so and he said yes. I then told him it was a piece of dirty impudence to assume the authority of settling without me, and I gave Mr. Scarth notice that it would not be accepted, with J. B. Smith's legal opinion attached to it. I must explain that at a meeting of the board a writ was laid on the table prepared by Smith & West. It was moved and carried by Reilly and Lucas that all the lands of Angus et al in arrears of taxes be sold forthwith. I went to Smith & West and the printers to find out the cost. The price asked by the Tribune, which was the lowest tender, was about $1,500 for advertising, but which it was found could be reduced to about $700 by reducing the amount of figures to an extent which Smith & West said would be legal. I found a new suit was coming on against us and that we would lose nothing by waiting. I wanted to consult with the council so I advised delay, as we could not get a cent of the printing money back, as it was only a move to force a settlement, while they did not intend to carry out the sale. I had made up my mind that the Herald was not going to get any soft snap out of it.

At a special meeting of the board it was carried by Reilly and Lucas, that we disclaim by seizing the safe, &c. &c. in the office of their agent Mr. W. T. Ramsay, but bearing on the day that the seizure was to be made that Mr. Scarth was coming, the seizure was not made till we would see what Mr. Scarth would do.

Dr. Lafferty continued, saying that Reilly & Lucas were ignorant of the situation. They did not know how the case stood. They should have known just what position the Board was in before undertaking to deal with the people's rights in the way they had done. They claim that by making this settlement we save $300, but it is not so. I have figured it out and we are out of pocket $692, which we cannot get back. Mr. Smith, our solicitor, says that Angus et al cannot stop us. The opinion of Judge Rouleau and the judges at Regina are conclusive. The Townsite Trustees now fight as single men and not as a corporation, and yet in the face of this, Lucas and Reilly want to give away one strong position. In the face of this they wanted me to advertise the land for sale. They report that at their meeting with Mr. Scarth he offered $500 and they asked for $800. Why did they not stick out for it? Why it was simply this, though Mr. Reilly went with a big speech ready, prepared to make Mr. Scarth surrender; but what is the result, they soft soaped Mr. Reilly and Mr. Lucas. They told my colleagues that the Townsite Trustees were equally interested in the town with ourselves, that they had given lots for schools, churches and a market; but I tell you they are just interested to the extent of selling their lands for the most they can get for them and paying as little tax as possible. They gave Lucas and Reilly lots of soft soap and they swallowed. These men were so flattered by nibbling elbows with the son of Sir Charles Tupper, that they forgot what the people had elected them for. I say that by this deal we lose $900 in taxes and they are not entitled to your confidence. The Council Board have made a settlement it is true, but we are in a ten times stronger position than the Council were. He here made the statement that we lose $950 in taxes and figured out other losses $817, making $1,767, which we are out for their nibbling up against the son of Sir Charles Tupper. At the meeting of our Board after the settlement, I did not want to bring it up, I wanted time to look into it. Mr. Reilly said call a meeting of the ratepayers. Mr. Lucas said he did not believe in it. Mr. Reilly said if the ratepayers don't support me I will resign. I have come here not from vanity, I came here to justify my position in not taking $600 instead of $1,760. They were blarneyed, they swallowed it like soft soap, they acted like two children. Scarth and Tupper would have given in if the Board had stood out firmly.

Mr. Lucas here asked how much we are out, stating at the same time that we are offered $600 out of the $912 of our judgment and it would in his opinion cost us $300, judging from past law costs to defend the suit for appeal, of untaxable costs, so if we won at Ottawa, we would be no better off and in the mean time run the risk of getting beat, so what better off would the Board be if they did get the soft snap that Dr. Lafferty claim. Mr. Scarth got.

The Doctor resumed, saying our claim is $812 and we can get that by seizing. Scarth and Tupper would have got no such settlement from me. Their claim of giving lands from motives of love for the town is all nonsense, they give them because we build on and improve them, and make their lands more valuable. Their talk is all sentimentalism. Mr. Reilly is very brave with a wall behind his back. Mr. Lucas here called attention to Dr. Lafferty's statement that were are out of pocket $817 by the deal. After some further talk chiefly repeating former statements, the doctor moved that the arrangement made by Reilly and Lucas do not go through that it be not ratified. This was seconded by Mr. Newson.

Before the motion was put Mr. Reilly stepped forward and spoke to the motion. He reviewed the whole situation in a most exhaustive manner from 1886 down to the present, when there was no municipal assessment. It would take half our paper to hold all he said, but some of the most important points were.

We have had this judgment for two years and got no money and now it is proposed by the doctor to go on and fight it out paying out money and getting nothing back. He said we begged from week to week of the doctor to do something, but he always voted against any move to secure the payment. In fact he positively refused to carry out the wishes of the majority of the board collecting the judgment until he found that according to the law of the land he could be fined $50 for refusing to discharge his duty, then he began to make some move as if he meant to do his duty. Mr. Loughheed threatened that if we went on with an execution or attempted to sell the lands, he would put the matter in court. I told him if he could get into court before I sell the land for him to go ahead. He said there was no intention to be discourteous to the doctor. He knew as much about Mr. Scarth coming as he speaker did. He went on all through the figures again showing just what Mr. Lucas had done already.

Mr. Loughheed made a short statement as to what had been the total costs paid up to the present, but this did not affect the case pending, except as to what might be the costs in future if the suit went on.

Mr. Bangs was called on for a statement of what money there was in his hands belonging to the school board. This did not effect the case at issue at all. Several other spoke including Mr. Carney and John L. Bowen.

Mr. Cayley put a few questions to the Doctor, which were answered, and showed up the true case more clearly to the audience than any other statement had done. He asked how much the judgment was, how much the law cost would be even if we won, this was answered and the deduction made and assented to by the Doctor that the saving would be just about $100. Suppose the case is gained, Mr. Cayley thought and the people evidently thought it was not worth all the fuss, trouble and risk of losing a big law suit for the chance of gaining $100.

On motion of R. A. Jones, seconded by F. G. Topp, that the meeting adjourn, both disgusted and amused with the fizzle, the doctor having voluntarily withdrawn his motion.

THE CANNON INDUSTRY.

The sockeyes came to the fore again in the Fraser on Thursday night in large numbers, the boats averaging 200 fish each, though some netted as high as 300. According to the new fisheries regulations the season for netting sockeyes expired on Saturday, 24th inst., and the coho season opens on September 1st. In the interval spring salmon nets will be used. If the coho run is up to the mark the present pack will be increased by 40,000 or 50,000 cans. The canneries are getting everything in readiness for the final pack of the season.—Columbian.

Mad Death.

On Thursday morning last Johnnie Henderson, son of Mr. W. Henderson, of the Lethbridge House, was taken seriously ill, and Dr. Mewbury, sr., was called in to see him. The child showed symptoms of being poisoned and at first it was supposed he was poisoned by eating fruit. Later on, however, it transpired that he had been drinking some of the water of the fly poison set in the windows of the dining room. Dr. Mewburn done all he could to alleviate the sufferings of the little fellow and the counteract the effect of the poison, but to no avail and he died at 1:30 on Sunday. The funeral, which was very largely attended, took place from the Presbyterian Church on Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson have the sympathy of the whole community in this their sad bereavement.—Lethbridge News.

Council Meeting.
[From Saturday's Herald.]

An adjourned meeting of the town council took place in the old town hall at 8 o'clock last evening. Present the mayor, councillors King, Orr, Bannerman and Murdoch and the clerk. This meeting was an adjournment of one held on Thursday morning. The special object of the meeting was to consider a draft agreement between P. A. Prince and the town on electric light and to vote on a by-law which had been prepared by the solicitor to give effect to the agreement.

A letter was read from Councillor Fitzgerald stating that he had been suddenly taken ill, so he was not able to be out of bed, and consequently was unable to attend the meeting.

After the mayor had explained the object of the meeting, the clerk read the draft agreement and by-law. The mayor at this point read the by-law regulating the number of times and time any member is allowed to speak on any subject.

On suggestion of Coun. Orr, Coun. King was allowed to speak in explanation of his position on the question before any resolution was moved.

Coun. King thought it would be better not to deal with the question now, but wait for a full meeting of the council at the next regular meeting on the 3rd of September, when Coun. Grant would probably have returned.

The Mayor said it seemed to him that it should go through now or be off altogether. The time was now short when Mr. Prince would have to get the works in operation and though the time might be extended, it would be at a time of the year which probably would be no use to him, as frost might come on and stop the work, so that time lost now could not be made up.

Mr. Prince being present, was asked to state what would be the result in regard to his going on this year if he did not get the privilege of going on now. He replied that he had not objected to having the matter laid over till tonight, but if a decision was not arrived at very soon, he would not be willing to undertake to carry out the work this year.

Councillor Murdoch said, in this matter your Worship, at last general meeting I took exception to the matter going through as far as it did until we knew more definitely what system Mr. Prince would put in and what danger there might be from possible contact of wires. I have always objected to the principal of putting up more poles on the streets and on that particular ground I moved at that meeting that the matter be referred to the committee on public works to see if some solution of the pole question could not be arrived at; but I was out voted and we are now placed in the position of having an agreement and by-law before us on which we may be asked to vote without the matter having been as fully ventilated as I think it should be.

Councillor Bannerman said he would like to ask what guarantee we have that this contract would be carried out. Why should we put ourselves in the hands of Mr. Prince without knowing that he was able to carry out his proposals? Mr. Prince might run the other companies out, then we would be at his mercy as to prices and service.

The Mayor differed from Councillor Bannerman. He read the clauses of the draft contract which he thought were very binding on Mr. Prince and safe for the town.

The question was brought up at this stage as to Mr. King's right to vote because of his interest in another electric light company. The solicitor was consulted on the matter, and it was finally left to Mr. King to decide for himself as to his interest and take the responsibility of voting. He voted when a vote was taken.

Matters now came to a dead lock. No one would move a motion, and it seemed at one time as though no business would be done.

The mayor then left the chair and asked Councillor King to preside. The mayor then as a councillor moved that by-law 107 be now introduced. Coun. Orr seconded the resolution. This move was made to bring the matter to a vote. The resolution was voted down.

Mr. Prince was then asked if he intended to do any more about it. He said he could not tell at present till he considered the matter further. The general feeling of the councillors present was that the matter should be left over till next regular meeting. The council adjourned without anything being done.

The neat, commodious offices in the HERALD block, recently occupied by Messrs. Pettit and Ellis, are to rent. Apply to A. Lucas.

Agricultural Experiment Stations.
The attention of our readers is called to the fact that the state experiment stations issue bulletins in which are given reports of experiments carried on, and other matters of general interest. These bulletins are sent free to all who apply for them in the state where located. That farmers derive benefit from these bulletins there is no question, hence those who have not already made written application to their state station are advised to send their address without further delay.

At the various stations experts are employed in entomology, botany, chemistry, etc., for the purpose of solving the many questions that are continually arising in these varied departments. Farmers have the privilege of sending to their own state stations for identification and inspection specimens of insect pests, plants, ores and doubtful fertilizers. Care, however, ought to be taken not to abuse this privilege. Specimens should be properly protected, so as to reach the station in good condition, and all communications written to the point and briefly as possible.

The American Coach Horse.
National Stockman thinks it is a misnomer to adopt this name for the larger horses now brought forward for market by breeders of trotting stock. It leads to a confusion of names. The coach class is a name that belongs to such horses as the best French coachers and Cleveland bays represent. The overgrown trotter or large sized trotting bred horse approaches them closely in size, but is a horse of a different type and a very different step. He is by breeding, conformity and inclination a trotter, and the coach step is but an artificial one to him. Rather it is to his advantage. Instead of being a coach horse he is a carriage horse, and there is a big place for him to fill. Call them carriage horses and demand a class for them. Let the coachers have the place that belongs to them and which they fill so well.

Grasses for a Permanent Meadow.
The most essential requisite for success in seeding a meadow, says Country Gentleman, is to place the soil in the best condition for the germination and early growth of the grass, by a sufficient top dressing to render the surface soil mellow and moist. The most immediate results will be obtained from a mixture of red clover, meadow oat and orchard grass, and later in the season from timothy, red top, Italian rye grass, meadow fescue and Kentucky blue grass, or a part of these. If the ground is moist alsike clover may be added. Clover and timothy give fine heavy crops for a time, but as they soon run out, it is well to add several other of the best grasses, not only for the additional crop which they will furnish, but for the protection afforded to the roots of timothy and clover against the severity of winter.

Dusting Insect Powder on Dew.
It is common to make the useful recommendation, in applying any powder to repel insects on plants, to perform the dusting in the morning while the dew is on the plants. The only objection to this recommendation is that plants are not moistened with dew every morning, or it is evaporated before the owner has time to do the work, or it may be too hot and dry for dew. The work is therefore put off till the insects may have done their mischief. A sure way, therefore, says Country Gentleman, and adapted to every morning, or to any time in each day, is to procure a watering pot with a very fine rose, and with a fine mist moisten the plants, and follow immediately with the dusting. Without waiting for a dewy morning, ashes, plaster, air slack, lime, belladonna or any of the numerous poisonous powders may be applied at any time of day.

Birds and the Insects They Destroy.
The following birds are to be classed among the most helpful kinds in the general warfare against insects: Robins (cut, and other earth worms); swallows, night hawks, purple martins (moth catchers); peewees (striped cucumber bugs); wood thrushes and wrens (cut worms), cat birds (tent caterpillars); meadow larks, woodpeckers, crows (wire worms); blue throated buntings (canker worms); black, red winged birds, jays, doves, pigeons and chipmunks (strawberry pests); quails (chinch bugs, locusts); whippoorwills (moths); hawks, all night birds, owls, etc., tanagers and black winged summer red birds (curculios).

Comfortable Barns.
If there was no other reason in the wide world—but there are many—for having a comparatively wide barn floor between two rows of cows facing each other, still we would have it so in order to get the better atmosphere for the cows to breathe at all times of the year, and most particularly during the hot nights and mornings, when, with wide, high barn doors at both ends of the floor, and with wide, open doors at each end of the passage way in rear of cows, one can have wind swept apartments for both cows and milkers—a place more pleasant for cows to be and for milkers to work than any open yard even. We have been there in both places "pulling tent" and know a little about it from the regular standpoint. We know something, too, about the other kind, where the narrow feeding way in front of the cows and small air holes in front, like many an abominable horse stall, kept the uneasy cows in an oven almost; and the milker was no better off than in the other case. —Hoard's Dairyman

A man named Albert Eve arrived from England this morning. Councillor Murdoch takes exception to permitting more poles to be put upon the streets if it can be avoided. Council thought as it was a very important matter it was desirable to have a matter made as public as possible, and to have as full a meeting of the council as could be obtained. It was moved by Fitzgerald and Orr that the meeting adjourn to meet at the old town hall, on Friday evening, the 23rd inst. This was carried and the council adjourned.

A meeting of the Hospital Board was held yesterday afternoon in the Royal Hotel, Mr. Ames Rose in the chair. Mr. G. C. King, was appointed interim secretary of the board. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of over $15. It seemed to be the view of the meeting that letters of incorporation should shortly be applied for, and that public opinion should be tested on some fit occasion as to the desirability of taking steps toward the erection of a building. Meanwhile arrangements were made for a lecture in the Opera House on Monday, the 28th, by Rev. W. T. Herridge, B. D., of Ottawa, who kindly delivers this lecture without charge, on behalf of the hospital funds. As the tickets are put at the low figure of 50c. and the lecturer is a man of well known platform ability, there should be a grand house to greet him.

Prince and Mr. Mr. Kerr, of the Eau Claire Co., in Mr. Loughheed's office at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, to consider in detail the proposition of Mr. Prince in connection with his application for the privilege of erecting poles on the streets and lanes of Calgary, and stringing wires on the same for electric light purposes. Mr. Prince's present proposal is to have the light in operation by the end of this year and his light is to be kept on for use all night. The schedule of prices which he cannot exceed, are the same as published some time ago in the HERALD. Mr. Kerr, president of the Eau Claire Co., Wisconsin, says his company will see Mr. Prince through in the undertaking.

The Doctor carries back to Barrie information which will be of use to those down there who wish to know about our resources and climate.

Dr. Geike, of the University of Trinity College, Toronto, arrived this morning from the west. He gave the HERALD a call this morning. He is delighted and astonished at what he has already seen of Calgary. He remarked that the people had a healthy appearance, such as he had not seen on the visages of the inhabitants of any other part of the great west. Dr. N. J. Lindsay is interesting himself in showing Dr. Geike the town and took him out to see some of the farms near Calgary.

Mr. Thomas Halliday of the city of Guelph, Ont., is one of the excursionists that arrived by this morning's express train. This gentleman has been a resident of Guelph for 25 years. He is engaged in the brewing business there. When he called at the HERALD office he was shown a sample of last year's and this year's barley. He made a close examination of it and said it cannot be beaten in the world. Mr. Halliday is strongly inclined to buy some property in town that would be suitable for brewing purposes.

In reference to the report that a piano case full of whiskey had found its way into town yesterday or the day before we have good authority for saying that it did not get here. The report was quite current that whiskey had come in. So much credence was given to the report that Captain McIlree made a thorough investigation at the station. Every piano case was examined under the Captain's personal supervision. The total number of piano cases entered on the C. P. R. books were examined and no whiskey found. A dozen or fifteen pianos coming into town within a day or two evidently created some suspicion that it was too much music.

Quite a number of first class farmers arrived from Ontario by excursion train on Sunday morning. Many of them have retired on their means and are on the lookout for investments in land or farms for their sons. They are anxious to get all the information they can about the country. It is to be hoped the committee who had this matter in hand will look after these gentlemen.

Mr. John Hodge, of Newmarket, which is the county town of North York, Ont., and his son William, arrived this morning by excursion train. This gentleman has a large family of sons, who possess muscle and experience and a good share of the needful besides. No doubt he will find plenty of suitable places within a few miles of town. They are registered at the Palace Hotel and will spend a couple of weeks before leaving, in examining the country.
